EUROFINS FOOD ASSURANCE

FOR COMPLETE PEACE OF MIND

Product quality and safety is important in every industry, but particularly so for the food sector where a failure to ensure safety could have potentially devastating consequences – for brands, their suppliers, and consumers. Every year, through our Eurofins Food Assurance services, we help thousands of customers across the world identify and mitigate potential risks in their supply chains, protecting them from product recalls and contamination, reputation damage, and economic loss.

The new Eurofins Food Assurance business line brings together the expertise of our North American, European, North African and Asian food safety and certification businesses for the benefit of our customers. Thanks to one single entry point, customers have access to a global network which offers services such as audit and certification, but also, by independent and dedicated companies, food label compliance services, training, and consultancy.

WHY EUROFINS FOOD ASSURANCE?

Eurofins Food Assurance companies are part of the Eurofins Group, a world leader in testing, inspection, and certification services across industries including food and feed, consumer products, healthcare and cosmetics, and many more. With a network of more than 1,000 companies across more than 50 countries, our focus is on innovation, technological leadership, and customer service.

AUDIT SERVICES

As a food supplier, the safety, quality, and integrity of your products are all critical. Eurofins Food Assurance offers a comprehensive portfolio of audits designed to ensure compliance with increasingly complex local and international regulatory frameworks. Carried out by our expert auditors, who assess compliance and provide strategic insight into business challenges, process optimisation, and risk reduction. We can help you meet and exceed your quality management goals through our portfolio of second-party audits, which can assess everything from your manufacturing and laboratory practices to the treatment of animals in your supply chain.

Retailer supplier or custom audits

We can ensure the compliance of your supply chain by auditing suppliers against your own standards. Eurofins Food Assurance is an approved food safety audit provider listed by several global retailers. We perform GMP supplier audits and retailer addendums to ensure all suppliers meet our clients' food safety expectations.

Second-party audits

- Animal welfare
- Distribution centre / Warehouse
- Food fraud management audit
- GLP (Good Laboratory Practices)
- GMP (Good Manufacturing Practices)
- Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points (HACCP)
- IBWA (International Bottled Water Association)

ENSURING FREE-FROM GMO FOOD AND FEED

SUPPLY CHAINS

Eurofins IP TRUST™ aims to ensure the non-GMO identity of products, demonstrate best practices, and enable the co-existence of GM and non-GM supply chains. The standard combines our advanced analytical capabilities with our expertise in auditing and certification to provide a framework that enables stakeholders to guarantee the integrity of supply chains.

Reviewed and updated 2021 in collaboration with Eurofins GeneScan, a leading global expert in bio-molecular testing for GMOs, in response to changing global regulations and the increasing prevalence of GMO crop events, the Eurofins IP TRUST standard ensures that products and supply chains are truly GMO-free.

CERTIFICATION SERVICES

Our certification services can help you select the most appropriate food safety certifications for your products and market and ensure that relevant standards are met at every stage of your supply chain. Each year we audit thousands of sites across the globe, for caterers, manufacturers, agents, importers, retailers and distributors, and carry out certifications for food safety, feed safety, agriculture, food integrity, and quality management systems, including GFSI and ISO standards.

ADVISORY SERVICES

We know that every business is different. That's why we offer on-demand, tailored advice and expertise through our advisory, and membership services. Our advisory teams can assist you with everything from managing food fraud to GAP assessments, HACCP and Food Safety plans, and advice on the development or improvement of your food safety programmes. We can even provide expert personnel to work from your facilities to help ensure timely and cost-effective compliance with regulations.

Stay on top of your legal obligations thanks to our Vigial® database which gives you access to more than 120,000 articles, official documents, and media reports concerning food safety law. This includes analyses of regulatory texts produced by Eurofins' dedicated food law specialist.

Our food experts can help you prepare for GFSI-recognised food safety certification audits, including BRCGS, IFS, SQF, FSSC, and EMP, with thorough GAP assessments of your facilities, identifying issues and recommending corrective actions.

Advisory activities are provided by independent companies and separate from testing and certification activities.

TRAINING SERVICES

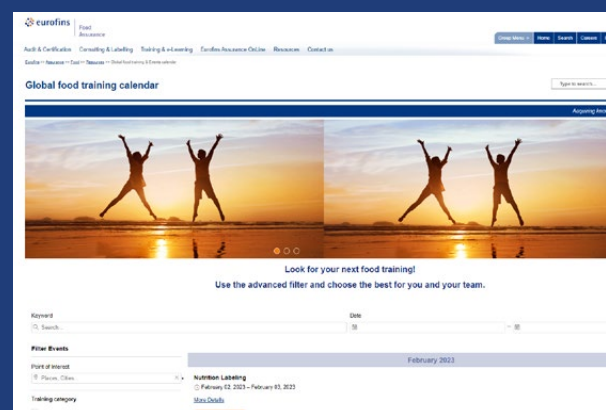

At Eurofins, we understand that your staff are critical to your business success and that investing in their knowledge and skills is the most effective way to ensure food safety and compliance. Therefore, we offer tailored training courses designed to meet your needs, including e-learning, on-site and in-the-field training, and courses held at our facilities around the world.

Our training portfolio covers all aspects of food safety, from food and feed testing (including microbiology services), certification and managing food fraud, to FSMA compliance and how to meet national and international food labelling requirements (from ingredient and allergen declarations to nutritional claims). Tailored to your specific requirements and available where and when you need them, our courses are designed and delivered by industry experts with more than 25 years of experience in their fields.
